STEVE'S STORY

Stephen Valiquette was born on August 20th 1977, in Etobicoke, Ontario. At age 9, Steve's family moved to Bolton, Ontario where he was raised. Steve started skating at the age of 3, trying to emulate his famous relative, and former Mapleleaf, Jack Valiquette. In goaltending terms, Stephen Valiquette was a late bloomer. At the age 11 he didn't make the 'A' team as a skater, so against his parents will, he began playing goal. After the season ended, Steve attended his first 2 week goaltending school. It was then, after extensive practice, Steve made the 'A' Team! Eventually Steve was drafted to the OHL by the Sudbury Wolves in the 3rd round. However, the team had different plans for him and he was subsequently sent down to the farm team in the middle of November. Steve went back to work with a private goaltending coach and eventually worked his way into position to be a candidate for the NHL draft. Steve played 3 and half years in the OHL for the Sudbury Wolves before being drafted by the L.A Kings in the 8th round of the NHL draft of 1996. In 2000 Steve played his first NHL game (a 3-2) win for the NY Islanders. After 9 seasons and 13 teams Steve played the complete 2007-08 season with the NY Rangers.

COACHES OPPORTUNITY

Dear Coaches,
If you are like me, you are looking for an opportunity to improve the instruction your goaltenders receive during the season. Goaltenders play a much different style than they did just a few short years ago. By attending this one day clinic you will be able to gain specific insight into how to support your goaltenders. You will be exposed to drills and instruction that you can put into use immediately. It's not often that we get an opportunity to get instruction from a pro. I've been to Steve's camp and he does a remarkable job with his goaltenders. It is my hope that we may all benefit from this clinic. There is no fee for any coach who has a goaltender in this clinic. You can bring your skates and be 100% involved in all activities.
Best Regards,
Gary Dworkowitz
